

UK SECURITY SOLUTIONS: PROVEN QUALITY, INNOVATION AND EXPERIENCE

The UK security sector is one of the most diverse and technically advanced in the world. UK companies combine cutting edge technologies with extensive operational experience to protect people, assets and critical national infrastructure.

- The UK has exceptional strength in counter-terrorism, border control, transport security, and CBRN. This comprises innovative technology in surveillance and detection, forensics and CCTV networks and intelligence tools.
- UK companies have extensive experience and expertise in training and mentoring. Combined with advice on security concepts and methods of operation, the UK can offer complete security solutions.
- The UK has strong partnerships between the public and private sectors, involving academia, industry and international security services. This enables a prompt response to new and emerging threats, supported by the developing technologies to counter them.
- Securing large-scale events. The security of sporting and other events, such as the Commonwealth Games and G20 Summit, is another area of specific UK expertise. The London 2012 Olympic Games will be supported by one of the most comprehensive security operations ever launched.
